Objective

The new industry standard was created to:

- (a) prevent the unauthorised porting of mobile service numbers;
- (b) reduce harm to customers from the unauthorised porting of mobile service numbers; and
- (c) require gaining carriage service providers to take reasonable steps to confirm that the person requesting a port:
 - (i) is the rights of use holder of the mobile service number to be ported; and
 - (ii) has direct and immediate access to a mobile device associated with that mobile service number.

We may need to share some of your personal information with service providers, including Telstra, who help us deliver Everyday Mobile from Woolworths products and services and in our broader business activities as outlined in this notice. Visit the Woolworths Group Privacy Policy for more information on Woolworths' disclosure of personal information to overseas recipients.

What is Everyday Mobile from Woolworths doing to protect a customer's mobile number and security?

Woolworths Mobile has introduced new identity verifications measures to verify the identity of the person making a porting request, prior to the mobile service number being ported.

Mobile Number Pre-Porting Additional Identity Verification

During our signup and activation process, we will send you a 6 digit code to the mobile number you want to port to Woolworths Mobile. You will only be able to proceed if you can successfully validate that 6 digit code.

What if a customer is unable to validate the 6 digit code?

If a customer is not able to receive and successfully validate the 6 digit code, we will require 2 forms of primary Government Issued Identification in order to review your request to port your number to Woolworths Mobile.

Woolworths Mobile will then review your identification and either approve or decline your request to port your number.

What do I do if my number is being ported to Everyday Mobile from Woolworths without my authorisation?

In the event that you suspect your mobile service number has been fraudulently ported you should immediately report the activity to the Australian Federal Police or the relevant State or Territory Police; and government services that support customers whose mobile service number is the subject of an unauthorised port. You should also contact your previous service provider and advise your mobile number has been ported without your authorisation and to request a port reversal
